ABSTRACT

As one in a series of test item collections developed by the Assessment and Evaluation Unit of the Directorate of Studies, items of value from past tests are made available to teachers for the construction of unit tests, term examinations or as a basis for class discussion. Each collection was reviewed for content validity and reliability. The test items meet syllabus content and aims best suited to multiple choice questions, but teachers are meant to base the use of the test items on student ability and the particular program objectives. French and Indonesian sections comprise the first volume of language test items. For each language, background items are presented in English and the subject language. Language structure, vocabulary and comprehension items are included. The test item level is grade 10. The answer key on each page is to be separated when constructing a test. Many items are illustrated by drawings, maps and sign examples. (CM)

LANGUAGE LIBRARY OF TEST ITEMS

PREFACE

This collection of objective test items has been prepared for use by teachers in the junior secondary school. It is intended to be a resource which will help teachers in implementing and evaluating their classroom instruction.

Items have been written by teachers in both Government and non-Government schools and trials of the items have been conducted in both types of school. The material which appears in this collection is thus a reflection of the range of ideas which pervades current classroom practice.

To ensure quality in the collection, only those items which satisfied several quality control checks have been included. Foremost among these were:

(i) inspection by a panel of experienced, practising teachers;

(ii) a pretest with a representative selection of Year 10 students in eighty schools both Government and non-Government located in both city and country regions.

As well as sharing in the general editing and reviewing functions, the review panels checked each item for content validity. The pretest was used to establish the efficiency of the items as measuring instruments.

Some items which did not meet all of the criteria were held to have some merit. These have been placed in the appendices to each of the languages, so that teachers who see practical value in the items may use them. It may be that the items are more relevant to years other than Year 10, or that they particularly suit a certain type of course. In other cases, the items may have more value in "non-test" situations; as starting points for lessons, for example.

Items have come from a number of sources: the 1975 Reference Test collections, the 1976 Reference Test papers, and material which was contributed and/or pretested in 1976, 1977 and 1978. The Reference Test material has been repeated here because of numerous enquiries from teachers for further copies of that material, and because of a similar number of requests that the "suitable" items be identified.

Measurement experts speak of the reliability of a test. This depends on the quality of the individual items as measured on a number of criteria. Because the items in this collection have been carefully culled, it is fair to say that tests constructed from this collection will be more reliable than similar tests constructed by teachers without this assistance.

This is not intended to suggest that there is no place for teacher-made tests, or other forms of testing. The material offered here is intended to complement teacher-written test items aimed at specific content. In addition, there is the problem that this collection consists exclusively of objective items. Now certain syllabus areas are more easily tested in this mode: consequently, any collection such as this is likely to show a bias to those areas. Teachers will need to keep this in mind when they are preparing tests.

In general, this collection may be used in a number of ways:

1) As a source of short (one period or less) tests;

2) As a source of items for term tests;

3) As a source of ideas for in-school item construction;

4) As a basis for class discussions, or for short review questions.

USING THE COLLECTION

The way in which the material is presented here has been the subject of considerable thought. Provided these instructions are followed, the form chosen should be extremely efficient.

Each item has been allotted a number. This is no more and no less than the order in which items were finalised for printing. This number appears on the lower right hand side of each item, as well as in the left hand margin together with the key (correct response).

The item numbers are used in the individual indexes to identify items which are classified in a particular way. Each index occurs at the start of each language collection. The classification systems are such that items may appear in more than one category, since the index is planned as a crude planning system for teachers.

PRACTICAL ASPECTS OF TEST PREPARATION

Two copies, punched for ring-binding, are being sent to each school - one for cutting up to produce "printing masters", and another to be left intact as a master file. If the cut-up items are used carefully and stored suitably, they should be able to be used many times for making printing masters. (See "Preparation of Printing Masters"). It is suggested that large envelopes be bound into the ring-binder to store cut-up items.

Preparation of Printing Masters

This method is recommended as it allows the prepared master to pass through a typewriter for the addition of page and question numbers etc., and prevents the electric scanner "reading" sticky tape patches and top edges of cut items.

1. Cut out items carefully. Always cut very close to and below the lines which separate questions.

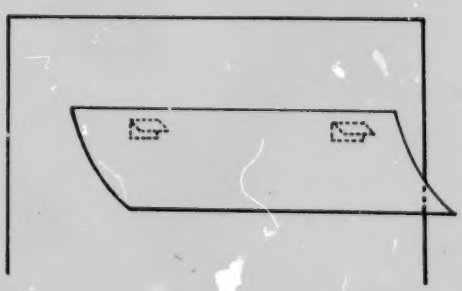
2. Type your test heading on a blank page.

3. Fix question 1 in position, "stamp-hinge" style:



.../3

4. Slide the top edge of question 2 under the bottom edge of question 1, and position question 2 correctly.

5. Holding question 2 in position, lift the bottom edge of question 1 and tape question 2 in position, so that when question 1 is allowed to sit flat again, it completely covers the tape used to hold question 2. Question 2 should be fastened by its top edge only.

6. Stick question 3 in place as described for question 2 in (4) and (5) above.

7. Repeat until page 1 is full.

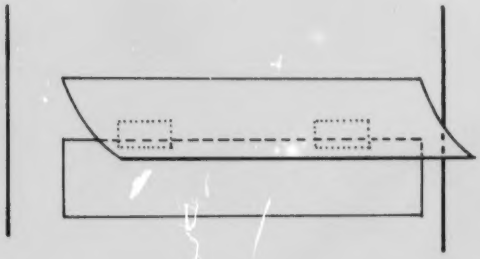
8. Complete pages 2, 3 etc., until all items are positioned.

9. Type or hand write question numbers down the left-hand side.

10. Check that the key (correct response) has been covered in each case. If a thermal copier is used, one piece of masking tape or four pieces of adhesive cellulose tape (e.g. "Sellotape") will prevent the key being copied. It may still be read on the original, and will still copy on a light copier ("Gestefax", "Thermofax" etc.). A correctin fluid such as "Liquid Paper" is recommended for light copiers, but not for thermal copiers.

11. Make the stencils, being careful to use the correct settings on the machine.

12. If, in step 5, only a narrow strip of sticky tape actually contacts the top of each item, it should be possible to separate tape and item for storage of items:



Test items of other types are likely to be prepared in future, dependent largely on demand and offers of supply.

To this end, comments, criticisms, suggestions, requests and offers should be addressed to:

The Subject Officer (Languages),
School Certificate Development Unit,
Directorate of Studies,
G.P.O. Box 33,
SYDNEY. N.S.W. 2001.

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT: Language teachers all know the problems involved in getting foreign-language materials typed by a "non-speaker". They will, therefore, appreciate the efforts of Alison Adlard and Sharon Webb who shared the typing of this collection between them, while having nothing but a limited knowledge of French.

FRENCH

The French Collection

Some consideration was given to the supplying of an index or classification system for these items. In the end it was decided that any system simple enough to be used would be useless, and a usable system would be unwieldy and daunting. So these items have not been classified in any way.

Three subject officers of the School Certificate Development Unit have been responsible for the preparation of this collection. Two of them, Tom Campbell and Ian Walker, are language teachers, and they arranged the writing and pre-testing of the items. At this stage, it is difficult, if not impossible to identify and acknowledge the teachers who wrote the items. The third subject officer, Peter Macinnis, is not a language teacher, and was happy to rely on people like Nancy McCullock, and Robert McAlpine and Geoff Teece for proofing expertise. Without all of these people, and the anonymous band who wrote the material, this collection would not exist.

INDONESIAN

The Indonesian Collection

On the next page will be found a classification of these items. It is hoped that this will assist teachers in selecting items to suit their purposes. This was prepared by Louise Robert-Smith and transcribed in this Unit.

Three subject officers of the School Certificate Development Unit have been responsible for the preparation of this collection. Two of them, Tom Campbell and Ian Walker, are language teachers, and they arranged the writing and pre-testing of the items. At this stage, it is difficult, if not impossible, to identify and acknowledge the teachers who wrote the items. The third subject officer, Peter Macinnis, is not a language teacher, and was happy to rely on people like Annette McNeil who re-drew some of the illustrations, Marsha Colbran, Kathy Kerestes and Louise Robert-Smith who all helped at various times.

Without these people, and the wider band of anonymous item writers, this collection could not exist.
